Beautiful, luxurious beds...

Just thinking about choosing a Rest Assured bed can be as comforting as curling up and dozing off on one.

It's not just the sheer unadulterated bliss of luxury fabrics, plush fillings and individually responsive pocket springs. It's knowing that everything is of the finest quality, crafted to the highest standards using traditional techniques developed and refined over more than 100 years. And it's knowing that, because of this meticulous attention to detail and devotion to comfort, you'll have the best night's sleep of your life, every night.

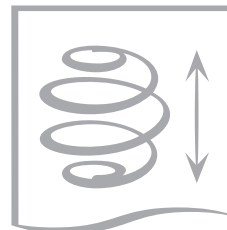

Knowing what goes in to making your new bed, you truly can rest assured.

Our pocket springs

With springs this responsive, it's almost as if we tailor your mattress to your own personal specification. Placed closely together under layers of sumptuous fillings, the hundreds of springs in a Rest Assured mattress adjust to your unique shape, giving you exactly the right amount of support, exactly where you need it.

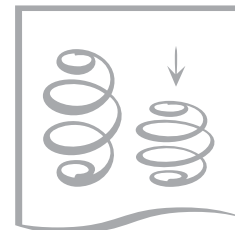

Each precision engineered coil is wrapped in its own individual soft cloth sleeve, which holds it at the optimum tension and allows it to move independently. This means that each spring is poised, ready to respond to your every movement, so that every sleeping position becomes your most favourite. Being supported in this much comfort promises a deep and restorative sleep, all night long.

Our unique spring system forms the basis of five main mattress ranges. Each has a different combination of springs and fillings so you can choose your own personal version of heaven.

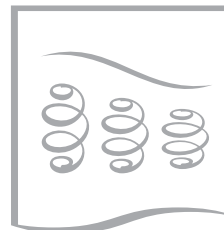

RESPONSIVE

Pocket springs are held under tension for responsive support.

INDEPENDENT

Independent spring movement creates your personal sleep zone.

INDIVIDUAL

Moulds to your body shape for individual comfort.

Choosing your bed

Everyone has their own idea of comfort. Some people prefer soft beds with plenty of give, while others think the firmer, the better. The important thing is that your body is comfortably supported from your head to your toes.

When you're choosing a new bed, you must test it out properly. So take off your coat, kick off your shoes and lie back (bring your duvet along if you like too!). If you usually share your bed with a partner, you should both try the bed together.

Most people move about during the night. This is entirely natural and not a sign of an uncomfortable bed. So, experiment with different sleeping positions and try lying on both sides and your back, making sure you can turn over easily. Stretch out your arms and legs to make sure the bed is long enough and wide enough for you, particularly if there are two of you.

Next, close your eyes, relax and really think about how the bed feels. Do you feel like you're perched on the surface? If so, the bed is too firm and may cause discomfort on pressure points. Are you sinking down? If so, the bed isn't supportive enough and may cause aches and pains. If it's somewhere between the two, then the bed should be just right.

Try out each of our different ranges to compare how they feel, and take as much time as you need (although if you spend too long in this much comfort, you may find yourself dozing off).
